God's Mission

Gold Mine

I remember reading (a few years ago) about thousands of people who were flocking to the western United States to find gold. River bottoms from California to Colorado were being searched for treasure, and old abandoned gold mines found new life. What is interesting about this is that all of these people had known for years that there was gold to be found in those places, but the difference became the value of that precious metal. As soon as the price of gold skyrocketed, mining the dust became a worthwhile effort.

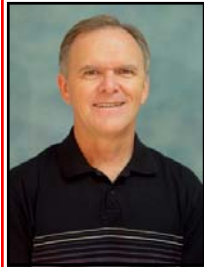

What would you do if you found out that there was 100 pounds of gold hidden somewhere inside the walls of your home? I don't know about you, but if it were me, I would probably drop everything and search like crazy. Suddenly, the television, the internet, and even eating would hold a lot less interest for me in the light of finding that treasure.

I think all of us would be ecstatic to find that there was a treasure just waiting for us to find it.. But, you know what? Each of us does have something within the walls of our residence that is worth far more than any amount of gold. I don't know everything that's in your house, but I'd be willing to bet that somewhere on a table or on a shelf is a book that says "Holy Bible" on its cover.

At least two very prominent people have said that the Bible is worth more than gold. Job, who was an extremely wealthy person, said that the wisdom of God cannot be purchased for any price (Job 28:15). David, an even wealthier person, said "The fear of the Lord is pure, enduring forever. The ordinances of the Lord are sure and altogether righteous. They are more precious than gold, than much pure gold; they are sweeter than honey, than honey from the comb" (Psalm 19:9-10).

There's a spiritual gold mine that's been within our reach all along. What are we doing with it?

Use your talents

Do you think God can't use you? Listen to others who had or thought they had reasons not to serve.

Moses stuttered
Abraham was to old
David was to young
Lazarus was dead
Naomi was a widow
Jonah ran from God
Martha was a worrywart
Her sister Mary was thought to be lazy

However, God was able to use all of these people when they allowed themselves to be used - in spite of their problems.

God asks more of the five talent person and so do others around us. We will be judged by: what we have the ability to do; what we are capable of doing with maybe some practice or training; and what we have opportunities to do.
